Daniel 6:10-12, 16-23

¹⁰ Now when Daniel learned that the decree had been published, he went home to his upstairs room where the windows opened toward Jerusalem. Three times a day he got down on his knees and prayed, giving thanks to his God, just as he had done before. ¹¹ Then these men went as a group and found Daniel praying and asking God for help. ¹² So they went to the king and spoke to him about his royal decree: “Did you not publish a decree that during the next thirty days anyone who prays to any god or human being except to you, Your Majesty, would be thrown into the lions’ den?”

The king answered, “The decree stands—in accordance with the law of the Medes and Persians, which cannot be repealed.”

¹⁶ So the king gave the order, and they brought Daniel and threw him into the lions’ den. The king said to Daniel, “May your God, whom you serve continually, rescue you!”

¹⁷ A stone was brought and placed over the mouth of the den, and the king sealed it with his own signet ring and with the rings of his nobles, so that Daniel’s situation might not be changed. ¹⁸ Then the king returned to his palace and spent the night without eating and without any entertainment being brought to him. And he could not sleep.

¹⁹ At the first light of dawn, the king got up and hurried to the lions’ den. ²⁰ When he came near the den, he called to Daniel in an anguished voice, “Daniel, servant of the living God, has your God, whom you serve continually, been able to rescue you from the lions?”

²¹ Daniel answered, “May the king live forever! ²² My God sent his angel, and he shut the mouths of the lions. They have not hurt me, because I was found innocent in his sight. Nor have I ever done any wrong before you, Your Majesty.”

²³ The king was overjoyed and gave orders to lift Daniel out of the den. And when Daniel was lifted from the den, no wound was found on him, because he had trusted in his God.

1. Daniel was carried off to captivity in Babylon in 605 B.C. when Jerusalem was first captured. The year was now 538 B.C. and Darius the Mede was king in Babylon. Daniel had continually been made a high official even as world powers changed hands. Glance at Daniel 6:3. What encouragement for your role or job in life does Daniel’s example give?
2. 1 Peter 2:12 says “Live such good lives among the pagans that, though they accuse you of doing wrong, they may see your good deeds and glorify God on the day he visits us.” Daniel certainly lived a good life among the pagans. Why did it have the opposite effect?
3. Both Daniel and Martin Luther faced first commandment tests with life or death consequences. Though our tests might not be so physically drastic, they are spiritual significant! What are the first commandment tests we face on a daily basis?
4. Even when forbidden to pray, Daniel carried on his custom of kneeling to pray and give thanks toward Jerusalem three times per day. What lessons might we learn from his example for our daily spiritual life?
5. What is amazing about the way Daniel continues to address his ruler, even from the lion’s den? How might this inform the way you will speak about your government officials in this coming election week?
6. Check out Daniel 6:20,26. What do Daniel’s faithful actions and witness cause his king to learn about his God?
7. Kings and rulers cannot save! For what reasons does our faithful witness in our own fateful days become all the more important?
